To whom it may concern,

Black Gold has used Venger Electrostatic Coatings for many years and will continue to use their services moving forward. We have been very happy with the product and service Venger provides. The electrostatic application works very well and would recommend using it wherever possible. We have painted thousands of lockers using this method and are very happy with the end result. We have also used this method for painting steel doors, handrails and other various products. The electrostatic process is fast, durable and works very well for us in our applications. We have enjoyed working with Venger over the past years and look forward to working with them on future projects.
